RUSSIAN OFFICERS CALLED HOME FACE TRIAL FOR FAILURE

THIRD SOVIET ARMY DIVISION FACES FATE OF TWO OTHER DEFEATED FORCES

COPENHAGEN, Jan. 11.—(AP)—Reports were received here today that more than 100 Soviet Russian officers had been called back from the Finnish front, some of them to face trial before special courts.

The reports, which reached Norwegian and Finnish quarters from numerous sources, said that the officers would be tried before courts consisting of people's commissars.

The Russian commissariat dealing with supplies was reported especially to be under a penetrating inquiry, which, it was said, already has led to executions.

Immediate verification of the reports was lacking.

Observers here were inclined to link the reports with the Moscow announcement that Mikhail M. Kaganovich had been relieved as commissar for the soviet aviation industry and "transferred to another post."

Kaganovich held a key post, and one of his duties was to supply materials to plane factories.

There were persistent reports that the Russian forces were being reorganized because of weaknesses shown up in the invasion of Finland.

These reports reached not only Helsinki but several other Scandinavian capitals.

Advices from Finland said the Finns today were heavily attacking a well-equipped red army division which they su rounded south of Lake Kianta on the eastern front.

The division was described as the third and last of an entire soviet Russian army corps, the two others, of 15,000 or more men each, having been shattered previously in the same general vicinity, with thousands reported slain.

The Finns reported they now hold a 30-mile frontier strip east of Lake Kianta, free of enemy troops for the first time since the war began Nov. 30.

Soviet Sled Tank Captured

COPENHAGEN, Jan. 11.—(AP)—Finnish troops credited with destroying two Russian divisions recently on the Suomussalmi front were reported today to have captured a "sled tank" which the Scandinavian press characterized as "Stalin's secret weapon."

The machine, consisting of an armored body mounted on skis and driven by an airplane propeller, was said to be capable of amazing speed over snowy open spaces. The armament was said to include machine-guns and a light cannon.

The Finns reported its weak-

ANNUAL BANQUET NAVARRO COUNTY BAR ASSOCIATION

ALL OFFICERS RE-ELECTED; COMMITTEE NAMED TO DRAFT RESOLUTIONS

Officers were re-elected and an impromptu program was carried out at the annual banquet-meeting of the Navarro County Bar Association held Wednesday night at the Navarro Hotel.

A number of short addresses were given relative to the passing of District Judge Reese Tatum of Dalhort, a product of Navarro county. Committees were appointed to draft suitable resolutions on the death of Judge Tatum and the late Ballard W. George, associate justice of the Court of Civil Appeals, Waco, and plans were made to conduct a memorial service honoring Judge George in the near future.

Galloway Calhoun, high ranking Masonic leader, and Gordon Brelsford, Tyler attorneys, were guests.

Tribute To Local Bar

W. A. Tarver, special representative of the United States Attorney General, paid tribute to the local bar and said he was glad to be back after a ten-year absence. In that period he has been Texas insurance commissioner, an attorney for the RFC and the alcohol tax unit of the federal government.

EMERGENCY DEFENSE OUTLAYS GUARANTEE OF AMERICAN PEACE

HOUSE TO ASKED CONSIDER APPROPRIATIONS IN NATURE OF PEACE PROGRAM

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—(AP)—The house was asked today to approve President Roosevelt's request for $267,000,000 for emergency defense outlays as a peace program—"not a war program."

Rep. Woodrum (D-Va), house appropriations committeeman, made the statement as debate opened on legislation to appropriate that sum. He criticized those persons who claimed the new funds meant that the United States was about to go to war or about to be attacked.

"Some say, who are we going to fight—who's getting ready to jump on us," Woodrum remarked. "The some reasoning applies to the question of why have any army at all.

"America is not getting ready to make war on anybody. We're preparing for peace. This is not a war program, it's a peace program, and America has always stood for peace."

Woodrum began his remarks by pledging "100 per cent" co-operation with President Roosevelt's expressed hope of trying to reduce next year's deficit and to keep from going above the statutory $45,000,000,000 federal debt limit.

Congress Stymies Itself

Congress apparently had stymied itself on the anti-lynching bill and an independent budgetary survey today as a white house move gained momentum to keep 1941 expenditures within President Roosevelt's estimate of $8,424,000,000.

House passage yesterday by 252 to 131 of the Gavagan bill making lynching a federal crime had been anticipated, but Southern Democrats in the senate announced they were determined to filibuster the measure to death.

Although no revenge was involved, House Democratic chieftains simultaneously hung up a red light against the Harrison resolution to create a joint congressional committee to comb all budget recom-

French Broke Nazi Lines But Are Driven Back

BERLIN Jan. 11.—(AP)—A French company in a surprise attack was reported by the German official news agency today to have succeeding in breaking the German line on Kreuzenberg, East of Forbach, only to be driven back later by a Nazi counterattack.

The sector is on the western front a short distance from Saarbreucken.

The official news agency, DNB, said the French left dead and wounded when they were driven back by German outposts. It also said a few French prisoners were taken.

The high command in its daily communique reported that two allied planes, which DNB identified as French, were brought down in air battles yesterday with the loss of one German plane.

Renewed West Front Activity.

PARIS, Jan. 11.—(AP)—Return of clear weather has brought renewed aerial and land fighting on the Western front, latest reports showed today.

Numerous clashes of small bodies of troops and several air battles were reported.

The Allied high command announced that two German planes were brought down within British-French lines yesterday. Other advices stated that a body of 50 French troops on a scouting expedition were set upon by a heavy detachment of Germans but managed to fight their way to their own lines.

Lubbock Man Is Kidnaped, Robbed By Two Bandits

LUBBOCK, Jan. 11.—(AP)—Jack O. Stone, area council executive of the Boy Scouts of America, last night was kidnaped, taken to near Tahoka and relieved of his automobile, overcoat, gloves and $3 in money and a check for $9.50.

Two men who held a gun on him in Lubbock forced him to accompany them so they could "pull a hijacking the other side of Tahoka."

They released him unarmed after robbing him five miles north of Tahoka and promising they would return his car to where he had been forced to relinquish it to them.

They bought gasoline on Stone's gasoline courtesy card.

Stone is married and lives in Lubbock.

SENATE CONFIRMED NOMINATION EDISON AS SECRETARY NAVY

SENATOR BORAH PROTESTED AGAINST LEGISLATION URGED BY EDISON

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—(AP)—The senate speedily approved today the nomination of Charles Edison as secretary of the navy after Senator Borah (R-Idaho) had protested against legislation recommended by Edison to give President Roosevelt certain broad peace-time emergency powers.

Edison, already holding the position of Secretary under a recess appointment, recently advocated that congress enact a law giving the President power, in an emergency, to confiscate naval factories and supplies.

After his recommendation created a furor at the capital, he declared it to be merely a preparedness measure and denied any intention to bring about unwarranted increases in the presidential authority.

The Edison appointment, along with a long list of other nominations, was approved after Borah said he had no personal objection to Edison.

The senate also confirmed the nomination of James H. R. Cromwell, husband of the wealthy Doris Duke, to be minister to Canada, to succeed Daniel Roper, formerly secretary of commerce.

Other diplomatic nominations approved included:

Breckinridge Long, of Missouri, assistant secretary of state; John Cudahy of Wisconsin, ambassador to Belgium; George S. Messersmith of Delaware, ambassador to Cuba; H. Henry Norweb of Ohio, ambassador to Peru; Clarence E. Gauss of Connecticut, minister to Australia; Robert M. Scotten of Michigan, minister to the Dominican Republic.

Also approved were the selections of Daniel W. Bell, of Illinois, to be undersecretary of the treasury and John L. Sullivan of New Hampshire to be assistant secretary.

Other confirmations included:

Rear Admiral Samuel M. Robinson, chief of the navy's bureau of engineering, and Rear Admiral Alexander H. Van Keuren, chief of the bureau of construction and repair.

Borah addressed the senate a short time before it prepared to act on a long list of nominations of which one was that of Edison.

Borah asserted that the proposed bill, if enacted, would be "arbitrarily and clearly unconstitutional."

The bill, he charged, would give the President power "under a so-called emergency" to take over factories and materials needed for naval construction work.

Senate Judiciary Committee Gives Approval Murphy

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—(AP)—A senate judiciary subcommittee today recommended confirmation of Attorney General Frank Murphy as an Associate Justice of the Supreme Court, after Murphy had voluntarily appeared before the group.

The unanimous action came after Murphy had assured senators that he opposed use of force "by either side" in labor disputes and that he believed the Supreme Court has the power and duty to invalidate acts of congress when they contravene the federal constitution.

Senators Burke (D-Neb), chairman of the subcommittee, Austin (R-Vt), Connally (D-Tex) and King (D-Utah) all fired questions at Murphy about his views of the constitution and duties of a Supreme Court Justice.

The nomination now must be considered by the full judiciary committee, probably Monday, and then sent to the senate for expected confirmation. Murphy's appointment as attorney general a year ago was confirmed 78 to 7.

Sentors McCarran (D-Nev) and Borah (R-Idaho), subcommitteemen unable to attend the session sent word they approved the nomination.

Murphy, 46, would succeed the late Justice Pierce Butler as a member of the Supreme Court. He has served as attorney general since last January.

Chairman Burke opened the hearing by explaining he had examined letters of protest and

Farmers Attend Program

Approximately 200 Navarro county farmers attended an all-day educational farming program given by the Buie Implement Company Wednesday at the company's headquarters, 207 South Beaton street.

Featured on the program were moving pictures dealing with power farming and a vaudeville program conducted by the famous vaudeville couple, Aunt Mirandy and Uncle Ezra. Luncheon was served at the noon hour.

Concluding the all-day program, R. W. Knight, secretary-manager of the Chamber of Commerce, delivered an address on "Diversified Farming," and O. L. Albritton discussed the subject of "Trench Silos."

FARM BUREAU ASKS FULL PARITY PAY ON VARIOUS CROPS

WILLING HAVE NEW TAXES SECURE MILLIONS NEEDED FOR BENEFITS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—(AP)—Officials of the American Farm Bureau Federation told President Roosevelt today they would demand a $670,000,000 appropriation for "parity' payments on cotton, corn, wheat, tobacco and rice and $200,000,000 for dairy and other products.

Edward A. O'Neal, federation president, and the organizations executive committee called at the White House to outline their demands.

ONeal said the money requested would provide for 100 per cent parity payments to farmers, based on prices computed as of last December 15.

The Federation informed the President it was willing to have additional taxes imposed if necessary, to finance the payments.

Mr. Roosevelt excluded estimates for appropriations for parity payments from the budget for the fiscal year starting Next July 1. Congress appropriated $225,000,000 for the current year.

The President explained in his budget message he was not suggesting that the policy of parity payments be abandoned and that it might be necessary to ask later for appropriations. But he said that a request for funds was being omitted partially because of a hope that next year's crop could be sold for at least 75 per cent of the parity.

Over 400 Navarro County Boys Being Enrolled 4-H Club

More than 400 Navarro county boys are now being enrolled in 4-H club units under the direction of Assistant County Agent A. P. Bralley, with the assistance of County Agent H. C. Robinson and W. R. Holsey, county agent emeritus.

About 20 clubs are now being formed and the members may elect to choose one or more demonstration from a list which includes beef calves, dairy calves, pigs, sheep, poultry, crops or wild life. More than half of the early registrations show the boys are selecting beef calf work, and expect to feed the animals on home grown feedstuffs augmented by protein and mineral concentrates, and plan to exhibit them at the Corsicana Livestock and Agricultural Show next fall.

Both Corsicana banks have again indicated they will finance any worthy rural youth in his demonstration as has been their policy for the past two years.

The 4-H clubs have a program which includes use and application of head, heart, hands and health in the everyday activities of the boy members.

New Series Dairy Meetings Planned Four Communities

A new series of community meetings dealing with a dairy improvement program has been announced and four communities are to be visited next week.

A film supplied by the Department of Agriculture, named "The Milky Way Out" which shows the necessary steps in the program and the benefits will be presented at each meeting. Complete sound equipment will be used at the sessions.

Each of the meetings has been called for 7 p. m. and the schedule includes: Monday, Emhouse; Tuesday, Corbet; Thursday, Eureka; and Friday, Chatfield.

The meetings are sponsored jointly by the dairy committee of the Corsicana Chamber of Commerce and the land use planning committees in the respective communities.

County Agent H. C. Robinson, Assistant County Agent A. P. Bralley, County Demonstration Agent, Clara Rettiger, and representatives of other government agencies will assist at the meetings.

Abandonment Of Hillsboro Branch Is Recommended

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—(AP)—An interstate commerce commission examiner today recommended that the St. Louis Southwestern Railway Company of Texas be authorized to abandon its Hillsboro branch extending from Corsicana to Hillsboro, Texas, about 40 miles.

Examiner R. Romero said the branch had been operated at a loss and available traffic did not warrant its continued operation.

GERMAN WARPLANES APPEARED SEVERAL POINTS IN BRITAIN

LITTLE REAL INFORMATION OF RESULTS RECENT AIR ACTIVITIES GIVEN

LONDON, Jan. 11.—(AP)—German raiders appeared today off the strategic Firth of Forth in Scotland and the estuaries of the Humber and Thames on England's eastern coast, the air ministry announced.

No bombs were dropped and no alarms were sounded as the renewed flights of the Nazis over the British coast met quick resistance from British fighters and anti-aircraft batteries.

The Evening News said the last 24 hours had been the busiest faced by the Royal Air Force since the war began and the British fliers "have had to fight their fiercest battles."

Today's flights brought the first German air visits of the war to the Tyneside, important shipbuilding and shipping center.

The air ministry said German planes attempting to bomb a merchant vessel off the Norfolk coast were driven off by defense fighters.

Fragments of anti-aircraft shells fell in the streets of South Shields during 10 minutes of firing. Spectators were endangered, but rushed out to pick up the bits for souvenirs.

Windows of a bus were shattered.

After once being driven away, a raider circled and returned above South Shields and again was fired upon.

Three large black planes believed by observers to be German were chased to set by British fighters over the southeast coast of Scotland.

East of London heavy anti-aircraft firing was heard in a Kent town about 1 p. m. 7 a. m. CST) and shell bursts high in the sky were seen in the direction of the Essex coast, north of Kent, although no planes were seen and no warning was sounded.

Crowds on the cliffs of an east coast resort watched a bomber attack a small steamer about seven miles from shore.

Explosions were heard and the

SECOND OF SERIES ADDITIONAL DRILLS SCHEDULED WEEKEND

Second of a series of three period of additional drills for members of the 132nd Field Artillery, Texas National Guard, will be held in Corsicana at the grounds of the Corsicana Livestock and Agricultural Show over the weekend according to an announcement by local officals. The period is to open Saturday morning and be concluded late Sunday. The first drill was held here early in December and another is scheduled for January 27-28.

Roster of Units.

Included in the roster of units to participate in the drills are representatives of regimental headquarters, Regimental Headquarters Battery of Corsicana, regimental service battery from Dallas, regimental medical detachment from Cleburne, second battalion headquarters officers and firing units, Batteries D from Corsicana, E from Kerens, and F, from Marshall.

Col. Myron G. Blaloock of Marshall on the general staff of the Thirty-Sixth division is scheduled to be present and officially observe the maneuvers. Other officers expected include Col. Kenneth Bullock of Fort Worth, regimental adjutant; Lieut. Henry Ramsey of Atlanta, regimental liasion officer; and Major Everett M. Graves, Regular USA Inspector-Instructor.

Officers attached to other units involved include:

Regimental Headquarters Battery, Captain Festus A. Pierce, commanding.

Service Battery, Captain Herschell Forrester, commanding.

Medical department detachment, Capt. Ruben Wansley, Cleburne.

Second Battalion Headquarters, Major John J. Garner, Corsicana, commanding; Capt. Louis C. Molloy, Corsicana, executive officer; First Lieut. Andrew J. Parks, Dallas; and First Lieut. James E. Wells of Grandview.

Battery D. Corsicana; Captain Randolph Robinson, Corsicana, commanding; First Lieut. Paul Dresser, Second Lieut. Ernest Kirkland, and Second Lieut. John Bennett.

Battery E, Kerens: Capt. Hal Johnson, commanding; First Lieut. James W. Johnson, Kerens; Second Lieut. James E. Taylor, Kerens; and Secont. Lieut. Calvin Honeycutt of Corsicana

Battery F, Marshall: Capt. Robert Yates, commanding; First Lieut. Elmer Saye, and Second Lieut. Leslie McMahon.

Noted Artist Dies.

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—(AP)—Jonas Lie, 59, one of the world's leading marine and landscape painters, died last night from pneumonia.

Analyzed Evidence

In floppy red hat and black dress, Mrs. Margaret Bennett Porter, an attorney whose duty it was to analyze evidence for the National Labor Relations Board, is shown as she appeared as a witness before a house committee investigating the board. Evidence was introduced to show she listened to off-the-record information about a case while drafting a decision on it.

HOPE EXPRESSED FOR RESCUE BY OFFICIAL COAL CORPORATION

VETERAN MINERS EXPRESS FEAR THAT REMAINING 87 MEN ARE DEAD

BARTLEY, W. Va., Jan. 11.—(AP)—As rescue crews struggled through debris and gas toward 87 miners entombed by an explosion that killed at least four, a mine official expressed hope today that "50 or 60" would be found alive.

The crews, which have pushed almost a mile and a quarter through the blast-wrecked corridor in the Bartley No. 1 mine of the Pond Creek Pocahontas Coal Corporation, were reported within a few hundred feet of the men trapped by the blast yesterday.

G. J. Stollings, General manager of the corporation, reported at noon the crews might reach the men within six hours and added:

"We're very hopeful that possibly 50 or 60 can be found alive."

Veteran miners in this squalid southern West Virginia Coal village shook their heads, however, and expressed fear all had perished. George Pile, company auditor said the "chances are heavily against finding any of them alive."

The known dead:

Roy Evans, 41, motorman, married, four children.

Charley Moffitt, 42, negro, married, four children.

Roy Hyatt, motorman, married, four children.

One man still unidentified.

The body of Evans was discovered as rescue workers advanced to within 1,200 feet of the estimated center of the explosion which tore through three sections of the pit.

R. E. Salvanti, vice president of the company in charge of rescue work, issued this statement:

"If we have luck, we should reach 65 or 70 men in a matter of hours."

Survivors Gather.

Wives and children of the trapped miners and hundreds of curious who gathered near the mine stood dumbly in a cold, sleety rain waiting for word from the eight rescue crews.

Two bodies were found against a slate fall a quarter of a mile from the 620-foot shaft.

Workers said they were handicapped considerably by dead air and had to build brattices as they went along to protect themselves. The shift coming out at 3 o'clock reported penetrating through rock and debris about half way to the trapped men. Expectations were that it would be at least mid-day before the three blast wrecked sections in the western part of the mine could be reached.

State mine department officials said the ventilating system had to be rebuilt as the crews moved ahead.

IDEA OF EUROPEAN PEACE BY SPRING CROPS UP REGULARLY BUT RUMOR BASIS NOT FOUND

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

The idea that Europe may get peace by spring keeps cropping up with such persistence both at home and abroad that one can't afford not to examine it, though none of its reincarnation thus far has disclosed the basis of the belief.

Anyway, basis or no basis, it's a grand thought and one can at least say of it what the stage magician says of his act: "It's a good trick if I do it—and it's a good trick if I don't."

Certainly if everybody thinks in terms of peace, war's end will be hastened. Moreover, it seems to me personally that while an early peace isn't probable as conditions now are, yet it is possible.

I think we can go this far with wistful thinkers: Peace is not impossible for the spring, but please don't say I predicted peace by spring.

A reminder of peace hopes came out of Washington day before yesterday. Mr. Roosevelt conferred with leaders of various churches and later one of them said the churchmen got the impression the president cherished some peace hopes that "might find some practical encouragement by spring."

Subsequetly the chief executive told newspapermen that he wouldn't put it in quite that way. He had merely set forth ideals which should not be reduced to factual language at present.

Undoubtedly a good deal of such peace optimism as exists is just plain hope. Some of it is based on rumors which sound good but which never have been substantiated.

To give one instance, we heard in Europe that British agents actually are dickering with Nazi leaders to push Herr Hitler to one side and make peace. So far as I know there is no substantiation of this tale.

But I do know that allied

SUPREME COURT OF TEXAS TO CELEBRATE CENTURY OF LABOR

TEXAS' HIGHEST TRIBUNAL BORN AMIDST CONFUSION OF STRUGGLING NATION

By RAY NEUMANN.

AUSTIN, Jan. 11.—(AP)—The Supreme Court of Texas, born amid confusion in a struggling nation which has little more than a vast stretch of wilderness, celebrates a century of labor Saturday.

Bulwark of man's liberty under a democracy, the tribunal will commemorate its 100th birthday with a simple ceremony beginning at the exact hour of its first meeting in the residence of the treasurer of the Republic of Texas on the bank of the Colorado river in the infant village of Austin.

The usual cries of "Oyez, Oyez" by the marshal will open the session after which Angus Wynne of Longview, president of the Texas Bar Association, will introduce speakers including Sidney L. Samuels of Fort Worth and Chief Justice C. M. Cureton.

In contrast to its humble beginnings when, as an itinerate body, it roamed between Austin, Galveston, Tyler, Nacogdoches and Washington-on-the Brazos, the centennial of the court finds it housed on the third floor of the huge granite capitol, its home for more than 50 years.

STUDENTS IN GRIMMEST SCHOOL PLAY "COPS AND ROBBERS" ALL TIME; PUPILS FROM EVERYWHERE

By EDDY GILMORE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—(AP)—No bells ring out in this school and nobody plays "cops and robbers" at recess—they play it all the time at the National Police Academy, one of the grimmest institutions of learning on earth.

The academy began a new session this week. It will continue for three months, after which the bright scholars will be graduated with a knowledge of just about everything from decoding cryptograms to disarming criminals by jiu jitsu.

J. Edgar Hoover, director of the federal bureau of investigation, started the school for law enforcement officers in 1925. It was an experiment, but it showed such excellent results in the detection of criminals that it's been going ever since.

The students come from state, county and city police agencies, from the Canadian mounted police, and even from England's famed Scotland Yard.

School is free. The student merely furnishes his transportation to and from Washington and pays his living expenses.

The faculty includes outstanding criminologists, scientists and lawyers.

Like other institutions of learning, it has its landmarks, special features and beloved characters.

Old grads—between their tours at crime dectection—like to talk about "old Oscar," the dummy, who has been murdered a hundred times in the interest of better corpus delicti.

They like to recall the first time they saw "Beulah," the automobile from which they learn to take such strange things as "invisible fingerprints."

Outside the classrooms in the justice department building is this sign:

"Quiet please, school in session."

You ought to see the sightseers top-toe by.

SECRETARY HULL IN SHARP DEFENSE OF RECIPROCAL TRADE

ASCRIBES UNFAIR TACTICS TO OPPONENTS OF RECIPROCAL TRADE PROGRAM

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—(AP)—Ascribing "flagrant and unscrupulous suppression and misuse of material facts" to critics of the reciprocal trade progoram, Secretary Hull declared today that it had expanded markets for American farm and manufactured products.

He appealed to the house ways and means committee to renew the expiring trade agreements act in order to aid in worldwide economic readjustment after the European war.

"The choice before us," Hull said, "is whether we shall lead the way toward the slough of despair and ruin for ourselves and for others, or toward the heights of economic progress, sustained prosperity and enduring peace for our nation and for the world."

He took issue with members of congress who are demanding senate ratification of each agreement, by asserting that the method followed in state department negotiations "is democratic in every sense of the word."

In concluding the pacts, Hull said, American tariffs have been put forward by the opponents and critics of the trade agreements program," he said.

In some cases, he asserted, claims of injury had been made before the agreements were con-

First Nat'l Bank Re-elect Officers At Annual Meeting

Much brighter prospects for business improvement compared with conditions a year ago were reported to the shareholders of the First National Bank at their annual meeting Tuesday afternoon. All directors and officers were re-elected at the meeting.

A successful year was reported to the stockholders by bank officials with satisfactory gains in deposits and loan volume during 1939. Total resources of the bank at the end of the year were in excess of six million dollars.

The following directors were renamed by the meeting: J. N. Edens, Mrs. Kate H. Whiteselle, J. L. Whiteselle, R. D. Fleming, J. B. Fortson, R. L. Wheelock, A. M. Milligan, J. H. Roberts, J. L. Collins, J. N. Garitty, C. A. Tatum. J. N. Edens, Jr., W. C. Stroube, Mrs. H. G. Johnston, A. G. Elliott, H. R. Stroube.

The directors then re-elected the following officers: J. N. Edens, president; A. M. Milligan, Mrs. Kate H. Whiteselle, H. R. Stroube and J. L. Whiteselle, vice presidents; J. N. Garitty and A. G. Elliott, vice presidents. active; J. H. Roberts, cashier and trust officer; F. T. Lindsey, Chas. W. Croft, J. H. Brown, S. W. Allen, assistant cashiers.

'LITTLE' MEN AND 'BIG' MEASURED BY MAGNANIMITY *

One Central Test of Size and Greatness—The Place of Forgiveness in Christian Teaching, and in Everyday Life — A Tale of Two Debtors.

By WILLIAM T. ELLIS

What is the quality which determines size in a character? Often little men occupy big positions, and big men are in lowly places. Curious, isn't it, how we instinctively grade men as "little" or "big"?

It is not, on the part of the latter, a certain spacious way of looking at life, and of meeting its problems, which we may call magnaminity? The big man does not cherish little grudges, and is not affected by trivial incidents.

Nobody may nurse in his heart petty enmities and still attain to full life. The magnanimous man is the forgiving man, the fine fruit of the Christian religion. Never of the really great do we hear that "He never forgave an enemy or forgot a friend.' Such embitteredness would spoil any character. With the spread of education and enlargement of life's interests and of religious conceptions, the famous feuds of the southern mountains have died out. The spirit of Christian tolerance and truth eliminates old hatreds, fears and unforgivingness.

One sure result of a real revival of religion in a small community is the end of old grudges and enmities, bred by isolation and pettiness.

A Big Bible Word

Every thoughtful person has observed the remarkable fact that the one virtue of forgiveness alone is thrust into the midst of the Lord's Prayer. There is no mention of truthfulness, loyalty, purity, patience, kindliness or other Christian traits. Only forgiveness is picked out for this tremendous emphasis.

Still more: the very forgiveness which all of us expect from God is made contingent upon our own forgiveness of others: "Forgive us ....as we forgive." What a dreadful sentence for a person to utter who has animosity in his heart! The clear implication is that unless we forgive, we may not be forgiven; and all of us stand in constant need of the divine forgiveness, and base our hopes of salvation thereon.

Evidently, there is something in the virtue of forgiveness—mercy, Magnanimity — which is peculariy esteemed by heaven. It roots deep in the quality of the soul. Its absence shrivels up ones spirit and embitters life; its presence causes itself and other virtues to burgeon beautifully. A man cannot live Christianly unless he lives forgivingly. Life is too short for the cherishing of grudges.

"Its Me, Lord, It's Me!"

One of the familiar negro spirituals has the chorus:

"It's me, Lord, it's me!
Standing in the place of prayer."

Even the best of us stands in daily need of forgiveness—the forgiveness of family, of friends, of associates, of God. Our entire Christian faith rests upon the foundation of the forgiveness won for us by Christ on the cross. No lesson could be more personal, or more suited to every one's daily need, than this one upon forgiveness.

Moreover it spreads out into the whole field of human relationship. How may this war-torn world arrive at peace except by the road of forgiveness? Only a vast and Christian magnaminity will enable the nations to live again in concord. Be cause there was no forgiveness in the Versailles treaty that document made certain the coming of the present war. The writer or speaker who spreads hatred for Germans is doing only disservice to the world's tomorrow. Daily our prayers "Forgive us....as we forgive" calls for the growth and practice of this virtue in individual life. And body can hate; only the Christ-governed spirit can submerge natural hatreds in forgiving love.

A Famous Story-Sermon

One of the great stories or parables, told by Jesus, had forgiveness for its theme. It was evoked by Peter's query, who by his very nature was forever getting into hot water, "Lord, how oft shall my brother sin against me, and I forgive him? Until seven times?"

"I say not unto thee, until seven times; but until seventy times seven."

There are no mathematics in magnaminity. The Master's word meant that there could be no limits to our obligation to forgive. "Seventy times seven" represented an indefinite number.

To drive home this point Jesus told this story:

"Therefore is the kingdom of heaven likened unto a certain king, who would make a reckoning with his servants. And when he had begun to reckon one was brought unto him, that owed him ten thousand talents. But forasmuch as he had not wherewith to pay, his lord commanded him to be sold, and his wife, and children, and all that he had and payment to be made.

"The servant therefore fell down and worshipped him, saying, Lord, have patience with we and I will pay thee all. And the lord of that servant, being moved with compassion, released him and forgave him the debt.

"But that servant went out, and found one of his fellow-servants, who owed him a hundred shillings; and he laid hold on him and took him by the throat, saying, Pay what thou owest.

"So his fellow-servant fell down and besought him, saying Have patience with me, and I will pay thee. And he would not; but went and cast him into prison, till he should pay that which was due.

"So when his fellow-servants saw what was done, they were exceeding sorry, and came and told unto their lord all that was done. Then his lord called him unto him, and saith to him, Thou wicked servant, I forgave thee all that debt, because thou besoughtest me: Shouldest not thou also have had mercy on thy fellow-servant, even as I had mercy on thee? And his lord was wroth, and delivered him to the tormentors, till he should pay all that was due.

"So shall also my heavenly Father do unto you, if ye forgive not every one his brother from your hearts."

Two Sums

This very human picture staggers us by the relative sums involved. The official owed his overlord ten million dollars, which he was forgiven. The servant's debt was just seventeen dollars, for which he was cast into jail.

Naturally the inference is that the first debt in its magnitude represents what we owe to God, which we cannot pay, and for which we entreat mercy and forgiveness. The smaller sum stands for the comparatively small obligations for which we stubbornly refuse to grant forgiveness. The teaching is that of the Lord's prayer: As we forgive, so shall we be forgiven. The ultimate standard is that of Christ, who amidst the agony of the cross cried, "Father, forgive them!"

Kerens Baptist WMU In Business, Social Session Monday

KERENS, Jan. 10.—(Spl.)—The regular monthly program and social meeting of the WMU of the First Baptist church was held Monday at 3 p. m. in the lovely home of Mrs. Clete Owen, who had six members of her circle assisting hostesses. Despite the extremely cold weather, 42 members were present to enjoy the well rendered program, the warmth and beauty of the home, the hospitality of their hostess, and the general feeling of well being, which comes when so many have gathered together "For His Name's Sake."

Mrs. A. E. Harrison was leader of the afternoon and also gave the devotional, the theme of which was "Learning to Lean Upon the Bible," illustrating her point with stories and Scripture reading to make the whole most inspirational.

"A Story From Foreign Fields" was given in playlet form by four young women of the church, Mrs. Hollis Simmons, Mrs. Lonnie Crawford, Mrs. Leon Tramel and Mr. Wayman Price.

Assisting numbers by Mrs. J. B. Smith, Mrs. Pat Murphy and Mrs. L. E. Gray completed a well rounded program. Dainty and delicious refreshment plates were served by the hostesss during an extended social houh.

Dear Farmer Friends:

It is now time to give thought to new financing for the making of crops, cattle raising and other farm activities. For twenty-two years we have prided ourselves on our ability to handle the affairs of our farmer friends in a most satisfactory manner.

If you have good farming equipment and a good credit rating, we believe it will be to your interest to see us before applying for a loan for your 1940 requirements.

Yours very truly,

DRANE FOUNDATION TO CONTINUE WORK UNINTERRUPTED

ATTORNEYS ISSUE STATEMENT CONNECTION WITH MANN RULING

The Navarro Community Foundation, a charitable institution founded by the late Frank Neal Drane, Corsicana capitalist and philanthropist, will continue uninterrupted its work in promoting the well-being of citizens and will continue to aid in charitable, church, civic and other movements, Davis, Jester and Tyson, general counsel for the Foundation, stated Wednesday when questioned relative to the ruling of the attorney general that the act of the Legislature creating the foundation was unconstitutional.

Issue Statement.

Following is the statement issued by the Foundation's attorneys:

"The opinion of the Attorney General's Department at Austin holding invalid House Bill No. 987 as enacted by the Forty-sixth Legislature in regular session, creating and establishing Navarro Community Foundation as a Public Body Corporate, according to our information was written in answer to an inquiry made by the Hon. Atchinson, County Attorney of Cooke County, who made inquiry of the Attorney General as to the validity of that portion of the Legislative Act which exempted the property of Navarro Community Foundation from taxation. The Foundation owns a farm situated in Cooke County and the officers of the Foundation had asked that no taxes be levied or assessed for the year 1940 on this property by reason the provisions of said Act of the Legislature.

"The effect of the Attorney General's opinion was that Navarro Community Foundation, as created by the Legislature, was a private rather than a public corporation and that since the Legislature was inhibited by the Constitution from creating private corporations by Special Act as distinguishable from general law that the Act in question was invalid in its entirety.

Public Corporation.

"We have not had access to the opinion of the Attorney General, but it is our position that Navarro Community Foundation is a public corporation, and if this premise be true then the Act of the Legislature giving it corporate existence is constitutional and valid, the opinion of the Attorney General to the contrary notwithstanding.

"If, on the other hand, the Attorney General's premise that Navarro Community Foundation is properly classified as a private corporation is correct, then this institution nevertheless continues to exist, with its legal integrity wholly unaffected and unimpaired, as a voluntary trust association under and by virtue of the instruments executed by the Trustees, together with Frank Neal Drane, founder and initial patron donor, under date of May 28th, 1938. Indeed the House Bill itself expressly provided that if the act should ever be declared invalid that the Trustees should continue in ownership of all properties then vested in the Corporation and should conduct the same under the original articles of Association executed by Frank Neal Drane, and others, and recorded in the Navarro County Deed Records. Navarro Community Foundation's benevolent and charitable functions as such voluntary association will be in no manner interrupted or disturbed on account of the Attorney General's ruling, and its affairs will continue to be administered by the Trustees as heretofore."

Attorney Generals Ruling

AUSTIN, Jan. 10.—(AP)—Attorney General Gerald C. Mann has ruled that property of the Navarro community Foundation is not exempt from taxation and a special law creating the foundation is unconstitutional.

In a lengthy opinion sought by Cooke county officials, the attorney general said the law attempting to exempt the foundation was a special law whereas only general statutes can exempt property from tax levies.

In addition, it said the foundation's property was not used exclusively by the institution and therefore it could not be exempted.

The foundation owns property in Cooke county.

CONGRESS

mendations, including those for defense, before any appropriation or tax measures are passed. The senate adopted this proposal yesterday without a roll call.

Administration leaders in the house took the view that the survey might be all right for future congresses, but the house has several supply bills ready and they do not intend to hold them up for a joint inquiry.

The first of these, the $267,000,000 deficiency bill containing funds for emergency neutrality and defense needs, was called up in the house today.

Meanwhile, the house appropriations committee was reported to have voted secretly against letting any of its subcommittees exceed the President's spending recommendations.

The action followed a trip to the White House by the House Democratic Steering committee, whose members reported Mr. Roosevelt told them to stay within his budget so that the national debt limit of $45,000,000,000 would not have to be raised.

If this is to be avoided, congress also will have to levy $460,000,000 of new taxes—as recommended by the President—to pay for emergency defense costs. Major sentiment now appears to be against doing this in an election year.

Moreover, several senators, including Adams (D-Colo), feel that the extra defense budget should be diverted to restore Presidential cuts in farm, relief, flood control, and other items.

The anti-lynching bill faces a determined opposition in the senate. Senator Connally (D-Tex) who led the 1938 filibuster, told reporters:

"I'm against lynching and I don't want to indulge in any dilatory tactics—unless it is to prevent a lynching of state government and the senate. Those of us who think it an unwise piece of legislation will insist on hearings.

"Lynching is fast disappearing. The states are suppressing it."

TRADE PACTS

cluded and their terms known.

"Some light is shed on the present situation by the fact that many of those who are now insisting upon advising American agriculture in opposition to the reciprocal trade policy, which has demonstrated its benefits to agriculture, were among the identical persons who advised the farmers in 1930 that the Smoot-Hawley act would bring them permanent prosperity, whereas under such advice the farmers of this nation were piloted straight into unprecedented bankruptcy.

"I dare say that the farmers will think twice before accepting a second time such reckless advice."

At the end of 1932, Hull said, "after two and one-half years of Hawley-Smoot tariff embargoes" farm cash income had dropped from $11,200,000,000 to $4,700,000,000. In 1938, he said, it had risen to $7,600,000,000 excluding benefit payments.

"The most reckless claims have been made in connection with the cattle and dairy industries," he said. "The income of the cattle industry, which had fallen from $1,495,000,000 in 1929 to $621,000,000 in 1932, rose to $1,144,000,000 in 1938.

"Does this indicate ruin?"

Hull said he did not claim that the increase in farm income was due wholly to the trade agreements program.

"But I do maintain," he added "that the increase of our exports has been a factor of great importance in this connection."

During the European war, Hull argued, the present trade agreements are of inestimable value in defending American export trade from the inroads of wartime controls and dislocations.

"Our actions now will have an enormous influence upon the problems of economic reconstruction when hostilities have ceased" he added.

The background of his argument was the theme which he has reiterated for years—that tariff barriers choke world trade channels, create economic depressions for surplus-producing agriculture and industry, and constitute a threat to lasting peace.

Upholding the procedure by which the state department negotiates the agreements, Hull pointed out that all interested parties are given an opportunity to present their views. Then experts in various federal departments, and finally the President, view the proposals.

"It is a method," he said, "under which the congress reserves its basic prerogatives, while putting into operation temporarily the most effective means that can be devised to meet a grave emergency situation through co-operation of the legislature and executive branches of the government."

MURPHY

telegrams and "nothing calls for any hearing."

He then read a card that charged Murphy "condoned sit-down strikes as governor of Michigan" and should, therefore, not be permitted to go on the Supreme Court.

The strike situation, Burke said, had been carefully investigated when the senate approved Murphy as attorney general and senators were "all thoroughly satisfied that he is a firm believer in law and order and the judicial processes."

Connally turned questioning to Murphy's views about the right of the Supreme Court to find unconstitutional acts of congress that "transcend the federal constitution."

Murphy replied the court had this power and should exercise it but only with great care.

Constable Precinct 1

To the voters of Precinct No. 1.

I am a candidate for the office of Constable, Precinct No. 1. Two years ago I made the race for the office, receiving a good vote, which I deeply appreciated. I naturally feel that I am qualified; but for my best recommendation I rely upon the opinions of the people of this county with whom I have come in daily contact over the years.

If you good citizens see fit to elect me as your constable for the next two years, I will compensate by giving my undivided attention to the office and strive, at all times to fulfill its duties fairly, honestly and intelligently.

SMALLER BUDGET

Budget news from Washington is more reassuring than it has been for some time. Estimates for submission to Congress were approximately $1,000,000,000 below last year's.

Such a slash itself will not bring Uncle Sam out of the red, but will be the biggest effort made in that direction for some years. And if Congress lived up to the executive figures, or started a little competition to cut them still further, the movement would spread general cheer among thrifty citizens.

A considerable cut from big spending can come more easily now, because improved business promises a larger government income for the current fiscal year, with present tax rates. If business continues improving, too, there will be so much more employment that the government will have to spend less for relief. And a public thrift psychology now would promote private business.

The outcome seems to depend mainly on the mood of Congress. Usually Congress tends to spend more, rather than less, in a campaign year. But that might be a mistake now. Congressmen might win more votes in 1940 by a reasonable thrift than by a wave of political spending.

PAN-AMERICAN TRADE PLANS

A program to enable this country to help in the development of South American resources for the benefit of both continents is expected to be ready for congress at this session. A number of danger points are said to have been avoided.

For example, this country is anxious not to make Uncle Sam a Santa Claus for Latin America and at the same time not to set up an organization that could be considered an instrument of imperialism. To discourage the first danger, loans made by us are to be carefully studied and to go only to constructive projects on a financially sound basis.

To avoid the imperialistic bogey, common participation would be the rule, with all Latin American countries sharing responsibility and bringing pressure to bear on each other when necessary.

Currency stabilization and other fundamental problems presenting difficulties are to be approached cautiously.

It is realized that cooperation and prosperity in this hemisphere require improved trade. Such trade requires greater development of South American resources and more buying from them. The most hopeful thing about the proposed international bank and other plans is that they are to be entered upon slowly and intelligently.

SPARTANS

The Finns are the modern Spartans. Against the armed hordes of an oriental autocrat they have stood like Leonidas and his famous 300. But with this notable difference. They have not, at any place in the wide front of this assault, been slain to a man as the Spartans were in their first encounter at the famous mountain pass of Thermopylae.

Unlike the Greek democracy in the ancient war of the free West against the enslaved East, the Finns have fought from the first on wide fronts. And on nearly all of them they have won from the first shot. There has not been any decisive victory such as occurred on the plain of Marathon when the Greek army destroyed the Persian horde; there has been rather a continuous succession of victories on a front of many hundred miles.

On the whole, however, this stand of the Finns against the Russians does seem like a triking parallel to the "blitzkrieg" that saved democracy in Europe twenty-four centuries ago, when 10,000 Greeks defeated more than 100,000 Persian invaders.

It's painful to learn that Emerson and Thoreau belonged to Communist groups, but they hadn't any affiliation with Russia.

Just as you get yourself all cheered up by New Year's resolutions, the postman brings you a lot of last year's bills.

SECURITY

Son, I'll tell you something sure
There's one way to be secure.
'Tis no fairy tale or fable,
Guard your health while you are able,
Know the task that's given to you,
All it calls for gladly do.
Grow in competence and skill,
Courage, faith and strength of will.
These in any code or creed
This old world will always need.

Son, whatever choice you make,
By whatever road you take,
Merit's worth will last you longest
Be the surest and the strongest.
Know your business in and out,
Through and through and roundabout.
Skill acquire, for skill will stay.
That no change can sweep away.

Son, this is the truth I tell,
Safety lies in doing well;
Nothing loads the dining table,
Fills the plate like being able;
Bad for body, worse for soul,
Is to live upon a dole.
Son, remember to the end,
Work is still man's surest friend,
This, khat'er may come and go,
Stay or vanish, will be so.

THE ARMY FARES WELL

William L. White observes in Berlin that civilians are wearing wooden shirts and buttermilk pants, but it's different with the soldiers. The army gets the best of everything. It has fine cars and plenty of petrol for them, while civilian Germany goes afoot.

At a time when wool and rubber are almost worth their weight in gold, "the army has plenty of thick rubber raincoats, and the best steel, and the best wool in its uniforms, and the best gas in its tanks, and the best butter and sausage in its belly, that the German nation can beg, buy or steal."

Maybe that is necessary. But onlookers often wonder how civilians like the situation, and how long they will tolerate it.

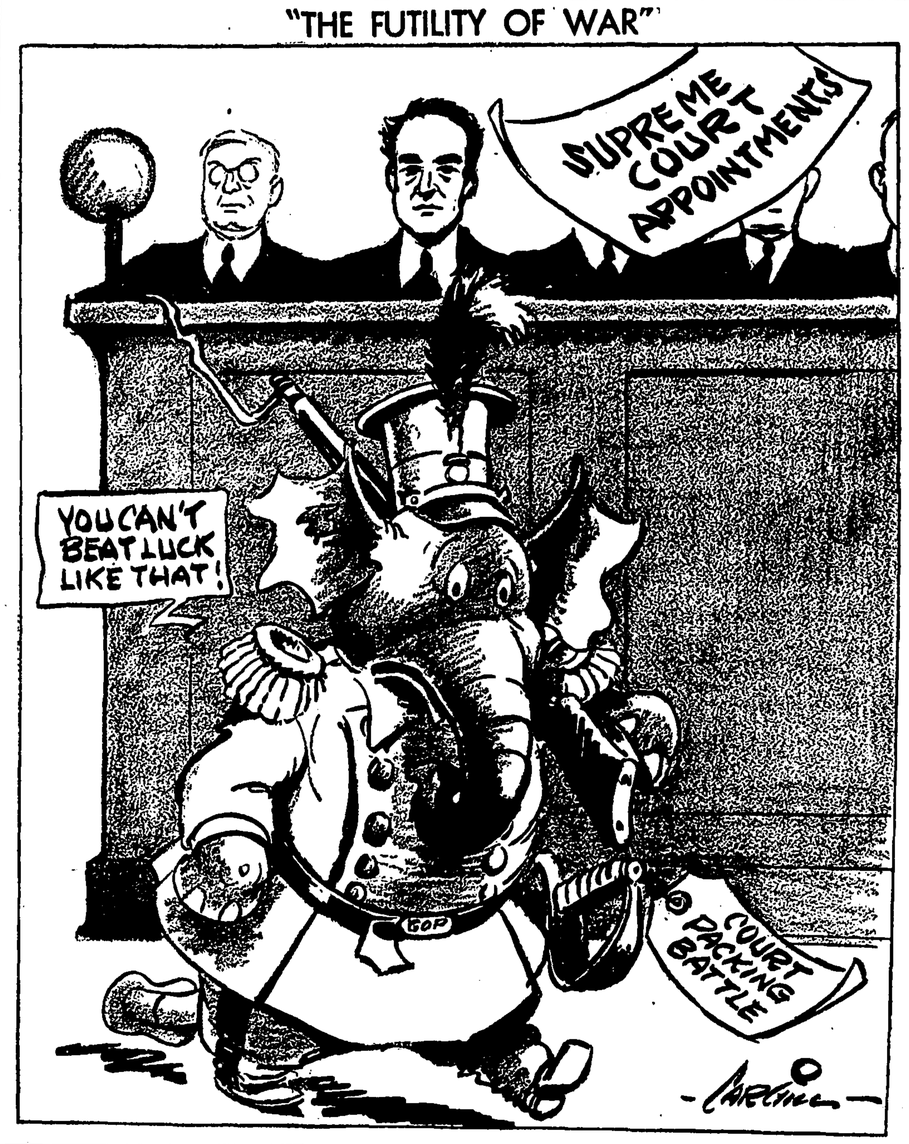

National policy and peace might be determined eventually by a public loathing for imitation food and clothing and weariness of ration cards. And, though this would seem incredible, there might be a growing resentment, among the people who do Germany's work and earn its living, that they should be shivering from poor food and thin clothing while sleek, well-fed soldiers splash mud on them.

WALKING TRAFFIC HAZARDS

A traffic statistician believes that the police in his city have saved the lives of ten person during December by arresting drunken pedestrians as "traffic hazards," and locking them up until they were in condition to remember and carry out traffic rules. The system was started by a judge who told police to note on arrests slips whether drunks were endangering others by traffic violations. If they were, they were treated like motorists in similar state.

It may be that the advice, "If you drink don't drive" will be extended to walking. "If you drink, keep off the streets," would cover both motorists and pedestrians and, if enforced, would make a big dent in the yearly traffic death toll.

"THE FUTILITY OF WAR"

PRESIDENT FAILS REVEAL HIS FUTURE PLANS IN ADDRESS

ROOSEVELT REMARKS JACKSON DAY DINNER INTERPRETED VARIOUS WAYS

By D. HAROLD OLIVER

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—(AP)—President Roosevelt's "plate-side chat" to Jackson Day diners, lauding independent political thinking and joshing everyone from republicans to himself, brought cheers and laughter—but left unanswered today the question of his future plans.

Democratic leaders who heard the Chief Executive talk at last night's $100-a-plate celebration interpreted his remarks variously as an indirect bid for a third term, as a valedictory, or merely a studied effort to "keep 'em guessing."

Most of the party bigwigs agreed with Mr. Roosevelt's own comment, however, that he was a "selfmade riddle" and predicted that the riddle would go unsolved for weeks or months.

Even though the President failed to allude to the third term issue, Secretary Wallace, speaking in Des Moines, said flatly that he hoped the "nominee in 1940 would be President Roosevelt." And at Cleveland Robert H. Jackson, newly appointed attorney general, came virtually as close to advocating a third term.

Frivolity was the keynote of the dinner here, but Mr. Roosevelt's speech had some serious moments.

Not Party but Deeds.

Taking as his theme "By Their Motives May Ye Know Them," he told his hearers in Washington and at 44 other dinners that it was not so much the party to which a leader belonged, but the deeds he performed in the interest of the general wifare that counted.

"People tell me," he went on, "that I hold to party ties less tenaciously than most of my predecessors in the presidency, That I have too many people in my administration who are not active party democrats.

"I admit the soft impeachment. My answer is that I do believe in party organization, but only in proportion to its proper place in government."

The future, he asserted, lies with those wise political leaders "who realize that the great public is interested more in government than in politics; that the independent vote in this country has been steadily on the increase.

x x x.

Must Hold Supporters.

"Party regulars who want to win must hold their allies and supporters among those independent voters—and don't let us forget it."

Again putting "motives" above political ties, the President said Alexander Hamilton, Jefferson, Lincoln, and Jackson were all heroes to him because they "did a job which had to be done. x x

"If leaders have good motives and good manners and at the same time, knowledge of the different parts of the country and plenty of experience, you can be fairly safe in assuming that they won't wreck your government."

Those in the audience who were looking for clues about Mr. Roosevelt's political thoughts considered that sentence a possible recipe for a democratic presidential candidate. Even though he did not discuss the approaching campaign directly, he included in his salutation to the 1,100 guests:

"Candidates Here and Candidates There—"

National Chairman James A. Farley, who introduced Mr. Roosevelt, came closest to announcing his own presidential candidacy when he said with a broad smile:

"Fellow Candidates, Ladies and Gentlemen:"

Garner Refuses to Talk

Homer Cummings, former attorney General and chairman of the dinner, noted that he was surrounded "by presidential possibilities and presidential improbabilities," and introduced Vice President Garner as "A salty personality."

Garner, who is an announced candidate for president, was next to Mr. Roosevelt, and pulled his famous stunt of mussing the President's hair as he sat down amid applause after acknowledging the introduction. He declined to make a speech.

All the speakers, including the President, expressed good-natured wonderment as to why senators McNary and Austin and Rep. Martin, republican leaders, had not accepted free invitations to the dinner.

"Why didn't our guests come," Mr. Roosevelt asked solemnly. "I guess the real reason is that, like the small boy, they didn't want to go to heaven with this bunch."

Landons' Comment.

TOPEKA, Kas., Jan. 9.—(AP)—Alf M. Landon, titular leader of the Republican party, asserted today President Roosevelt's Jackson Day speech would make it "difficult" for the nation to "present a united front to those foreign countries watching us closely."

"If the president would just give the spirit of unity an opportunity to work in this country, it would be so helpful," said Landon.

"Instead he makes it difficult by his foxy way of hiding, playing with the third term proposition, the business of inviting three Republicans to this Democratic meeting and then getting up and expressing regret they didn't come.

"Me knew they wouldn't attend the meeting when the invitations were issued. Those Republicans had no business there."

FARMERS FIND PRICES MAJOR COMMODITIES ABOUT 17 PCT. HIGHER THAN ONE YEAR AGO

By FRANKLIN MULLIN

CHICAGO, Jan. 10.—(AP)—Farmers studying market conditions in preparation for this year's planting found prices of their major commodities today averaging about 17 per cent higher than a year ago.

Of 10 importnt items farmers have to sell, only livestock and eggs brought less returns than at the start of 1939. Most products were priced under January, 1937, quotations and a few were lower than two years ago, but with these exceptions the general level of market prices was about the best of the past decade.

Whether these higher prices foretell increased agricultural income, however, will depend on the amount of commodities farmers have to sell, market analysts said. In general, recent price advances have been based on prospects of decreased production in 1940, as in the case of wheat. Price losses reflected larger market supplies, as in the case of hogs. Farm income in 1939, including government payments, was the best since 1930, except for 1937.

Crops which now command best prices at market, such as wheat, oats, rye and soy beans, may be given most consideration in farmers' planting intentions insofar as producers who cooperate with the government program find federal control plans do not interfere, market men said.

The following table shows approximate early January prices of various commodities in recent years:

	1940	1939	1938	1937	1936	1935
Wheat, May	1.01	.69	.95	1.35	1.04	1.00
Corn	.58	.53	.63	1.11	.62	.91
Oats	.39	.29	.32	.53	.28	.54
Rye	.72	.47	.75	1.16	.56	.76
Soy Beans	1.16	.83	.98	1.58	.....	.....
Hogs (aver.)	5.40	7.50	7.90	10.40	9.50	7.75
Cattle (best)	10.60	12.10	10.10	12.80	13.10	11.00
Butter	.31	.26	.32	.33	.33	.31

Notice.

There will be a Townsend meeting at 404 South Fourteenth street Friday, Jan. 12, at 3 o'clock. Everybody is cordially invited to attend and especially the members who have been delinquent for several meetings. We will try to entertain you and also teach you some things that you should know about. Thre will be singing and prayer and then the reading of the minutes and also the national bulletin. Then there will be some discussion on topics pertaining to the workings of the organization and will close with the pledge. J. W. GAYLE.

TEXAS DEMOCRATS HEAR LAUDING OF GARNER, ROOSEVELT

SPEAKERS ARE DIVIDED ON NOMINATION OF TEXAN AND THIRD TERM FOR PRESIDENT

By ERNEST G. FISCHER
Associated Press Staff.

Texas Democrats came to the aid of their party—to the tune of about $30,000—last night (Monday), but orators at the Jackson Day dinners were divided between the nomination of Vice President John N. Garner and a third term for President Roosevelt.

At the $25-per-plate dinner in Dallas, two speakers, Tom DeBerry of the state board of control and John W. Hanes, former undersecretary of the treasury, praised Garner. At another meeting in Dallas, a dinnerless affair, a resolution was passed urging a third term for Roosevelt. Mayor Maury Maverick of San Antonio told Fort Worth Democrats the party went into decline when Andrew Jackson declined to run for a third term.

North Texas Democrats, meeting near Garner's birthplace in Red River county, were told by Col. James Cabiness that "John Garner will give us the same kind of Democracy as that line of Democrats represented by Andrew Jackson." In Garner's home town, Uvalde, the Jackson Day dinner developed into the organization of a Garner-for-President club.

O'Daniel at Hotdog Dinner.

Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel, who said the press of official business kept him from the Dallas $25-per-plate dinner, went to a two-bit hotdog dinner in Austin. The entertainment was marked by a mock trial of Garner, accused of being "an evil old man."

Some of the sessions lasted far into the night—almost to the magic hour of 1 a. m.

It was at 1 a. m. about 125 years ago that Gen Andrew Jackson, poised to meet the British at the battle of New Orleans, roused his aides and said, "Gentlemen, we have slept long enough."

Hanes, asserting there still are economic frontiers, subscribed to the concepts of Garner, who said that the two functions of government were to safeguard the lives and property of the citizenship and to insure all a chance to work out their destinies according to their talents.

"If I were called upon to write a political platform I would give liveral interpretation to this thought."

Will Be Forced to Count Cost.

In connection with governmental economy, DeBerry said "some of these days you are going to have to count the cost" and "squirrels don't throw hickory nuts in the river or plow them up."

The speech-making paused while the audience listened to a broadcast by President Roosevelt from the $100-per-plate Jackson Day dinner in Washington.

Marion S. Church, chairman of the Dallas $25 "official" dinner, said more than $25,000 was contributed. Church declared the affair was not to foster the political ambitions of any one man, but to finance the campaign for the party's nominee.

At some of the other dinners the proceeds went to community charity or to the Finnish relief.

Church, introducing former Gov. James E. Ferguson, told him, "if you run for governor now, you've got to play a banjo or dip snuff."

Ferguson, interviewed after the dinner, said the Texas delegation to the national convention "probably would not" be instructed for Garner. The veteran campaigner indicated Roosevelt, backed by the federal benefits, would make a "stronger" bid on a third term basis.

"Farmer Jim" added "politics is dollar-tics."

Eggs Were Expensive.

BOSTON, Jan. 9.—(AP)—Ralph W. Robart, chairman of the state parole board, paid $25 for two eggs on toast last night.

He said he attended Boston's $25-a-plate Jackson Day Dinner, despite the fact that he is on a diet, because he wanted to hear the oratory.

Alfred English Died In Dallas; Burial in Wortham

WORTHAM, Jan. 9.—(Spl.)—Alfred English, age 50, who died in a Dallas hospital after several months' illness, was buried in the Wortham cemetery Monday afternoon at 2:30, funeral rites being conducted by the Masonic lodge.

Deceased was actively engaged in the merchantile business at Kilgore until his recent illness. He was born and reared in the Currie community, five miles north of Wortham. Immediate relatives surviving are one brother, Roe English of Angus, and two sisters, Mrs. Ben Phipps and Mrs. Sollie Brown, both of Currie.

Mother of Corsicana Man Died Tuesday At Home in Forreston

FORRESTON, Jan. 10.—Funeral services were held here Wednesday afternoon for Mrs. P. E. Corley, aged 65 years, who died here Tuesday. She had been ill since October.

Surviving are her husband, two daughters, eight sons, two sisters and two brothers. One son, Robert A. Corley, resides in Corsicana.

Kerens Woman Painfully Burned.

KERENS, Jan. 9.—(Spl.)—Mrs. A. E. Harrison, wife of Kerens First Baptist pastor, is slowly recovering from painful burns about one arm, hand and the entire right side. Standing too near a gas stove on a cold morning last week, her clothing became ignited and the flames gained headway so rapidly only her presence of mind saved her from a horrible fate.

Some of the COMMON SKIN DISEASES

School teachers have requested an article on Skin Diseases, because so many children go to school with contagious diseases of the skin and infect other children.

All skin diseases are not contagious. Some are caused from systemic unbalance, such as acne, some types of eczema and welts caused by sensitiveness to protein or pollen, dermatitis caused from plants or chemicals, such as hair dye, furs, face powder and poison ivy.

Infections caused by "pus" organisms, such as erysipelas, siphiles erythematosus, impetigo, ringworm, scabies (or itch) are contagious. In a recent study of 600 skin diseases of children under 12 years, the following percentages were obtained: 21½% of the cases were eczema, 11½% ringworm, 10% impetigo, 7% scabies, and the balance, or 50%, were systemic or non-contagious.

If you, or any member of your family, has a skin eruption, or irritation, see your doctor. Picking, scratching and squeezing are strongly advised against. Infection may be carried to other parts of the body or spread into the deeper tissues. Your case may require a simple local treatment, it may need the X-ray, ultra-violet, radium, vaccine—or it may call for systemic treatment and special diet.

HOUSE APPROVED SECTIONAL MEASURE AFTER HOT DEBATE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—(AP)—A federal anti-lynching bill was passed today by the House and sent to the Senate where strong Southern bloc already had threatened, if necessary, to talk it to death.

The house vote was 251 for passage to 132 against.

House approval came after the representatives had stricken out a provision which would have eliminated from the definition of lynching those crimes of violence occurring in connection with labor disputes.

Senate action on the bill appeared improbable because a group of Southern senators, headed by Senator Connally (D-Texas) have announced their intention of blocking the measure if it comes up for consideration there. In past years similar bills repeatedly have been killed by senate filibusters. The most recent instance was in 1938.

Kerens Presbyterian Women Met Monday In Business Session

KERENS, Jan. 10.—(Spl.)—Monday afternoon marked another meeting date for the women of the First Presbyterian church as they assembled at the church for a program on national missions and for their regular business session.

Mrs. W. B. Coates led the devotional for the prayer group, choosing as her subject "Faith." Numerous examples of undying faith were cited, both human and Biblical, and Scriptures were read with comment.

In the absence of Mrs. Ben Miller, president, the vice president, Mrs. J. E. Simmons, assumed charge of business matters and introduced program numbers.

After group singing of "My Faith Looks Up to Thee," National Missions wer discussed by Mrs. Hazel McClung and Mrs. Lena Speed. The thought-provoking theme of these talks was the need of immigrants within the United States, those unfortunates, who for the time being at least, are without a home, a county, and in so many instances, without religion of any sort. Prayer of dismissal was by Mrs. Joe N. Everheart, who remembered the above in an appealing petition.

VARIED ACTIVITIES AMONG WOMEN, GIRLS OF NAVARRO COUNTY

COUNTY HOME DEMONSTRATION AGENT MAKES HER ANNUAL REPORT

Varied activities of the extension service among the women of Navarro county, with particular emphasis placed on the work with the women's clubs and 4-H organizations, are outlined in the annual report of Miss Clara E. Rettiger, Navarro county home demonstration agent.

A summary of the work by the 13 home demonstration clubs and fourteen 4-H clubs shows the stressing of the home food supply, poultry, grain products, meat supply, nutrition and interior home improvement, particularly in the kitchens, clothing and garden, including "live-at-home" by producing and preserving necessities and exchanging home-produced products for those staples and necessary food elements. Use of more cotton was stressed, participation in an educational exhibit in the Corsicana Livestock and Agricultural Show, and trips to the bi-district dairy show in Arlington, the short course at College Station, attendance at the Fat Stock Show at Fort Worth, and representation at the AAA educational meetings at Dallas and Fort Worth, and attendances at district and state demonstration associations were mentioned.

The report of the home demonstration agent states that 10,389 containers of food were canned; 19,025 pounds of meat cured; 6,295 pullets added to flocks; 26,420 dozen eggs were produced; 136 purchased or incubated pure bred chicks; 192 feeding or watering devices added to the poultry yard equipment; 19,613 pounds of butter were made, and 267 balanced preservation budgets were prepared.

In the kitchen improvement campaign, there were 25 kitchens improved, including 18 cabinets built in or added; eight pantries or cleaning closets completed; 62 added or replaced kitchen shades or curtains; 40 improved or re-screened windows and five installed running water.

The report indicated that 473 articles of wearing were made.

Girls planted 218,163 feet of vegetables in their gardens. Three frame gardens were made, 3,137 containers of food were canned, 886 pounds of vegetables were dried, 129 improved their table service and 135 improved methods of preparing vegetables.

Other activities during the year included two dairy products schools, one turkey and poultry killing and dressing school, and the organization of a market committee.

Approximately 265 non-club families were helped by the club members and the agent in the "good neighbor" program.

SUPREME COURT

ligerent Indians and tedious trekking through uninhabited brush country. Now, hundreds of volumes, handiwork of 60-odd men who have sat on its bench, line the supreme court's chambers.

Shaping Texas' course of economic and social development through rulings on property rights, the court has directly and indirectly affected generations of citizens in every walk of life.

The court's first meeting was presided over by Chief Justice Thomas J. Rusk attended by Associate Justices Anthony B. Shelby, William J. Jones, John T. Mills, James W. Robinson and E. T. Branch, all district judges and the only ones in the state.

Their first decision affirmed a lower court jury verdict awarding $250 to Bernard Oelrich who sued tavern operators for a horse valued at $350. The opinion was written by Justice Jones.

Created by the Republic, the tribunal consisted of a chief justice and from four to seven associate justices elected for four-year terms by joint ballot of the houses of congress.

It took over criminal jurisdiction which it held until creation of the Court of Criminal Appeals in 1841.

While Justice Rusk presided at its first meeting, he was not the first chief justice. James Collingsworth was elected to that post but was drowned in Galveston Bay before the court convened.

Speaking of Justice John Hemphill who served on the court for both the Republic and the State, Chief Justice Oran M. Roberts, who also once served as governor, said:

"He was the only connecting link that bound the Supreme Court of the State to that of the noble little republic which, constantly at war, administered its laws in the midst of alarms; where judges held courts when the attacks of the enemy were imminent, and the fear of capture and imprisonment was sometimes realized."

MACKENZIE

agents have been at work in Germany for a long time, trying to upset Hitler's throne. On that basis it would be a safe bet that an effort has been made to reach some of the big men of Nazidom.

I think what inspires many of the European rumors is the general knowledge the war is unwanted in any country, that privation and other hardships already are bearing down.

Supposing morales are having a hard grilling in the spring-Supposing that then, when the winter has raised its barriers to fighting, terrific offensives develop, with great bloodshed and widespread destruction by such bombing as never has been seen before. Developments of just such sanguinary warfare is predicted by military experts and statesmen alike.

The breaking of such a storm might indeed be the blow which would finally shatter the morale of one, or even more, of the people's involved. Then would come the collapse—peace by spring.

It is significant that both Britain and Germany have just started propoganda campaigns to keep public morale up to scratch in these dire days of waiting for something to happen in the way of heavy fighting.

HEALTH, BEAUTY AND POISE

By VERONICA DENGEL

FROM THE MAIL BAG

Mrs. S. writes: Please send me information as to how I can correct a withered appearance on my hands.

Veronica Dengel

Such a condition is frequently caused by constant immersion of the hands in too hot water the use of strong soaps and cleasing powders, and sudden exposure to wind and weather. There is no reason why a woman who does all her work cannot have nice hands as well as the girl who works in an office or a lady of leisure. It is simply a matter of forethought, preparation and care. When the natural oils of the skin are dried out from any cause thet skin will most certainly become dried and 'withered.' By restoring these oils—and that is best done by eliminating the cause of their loss and permitting Nature to recondition the skin—the softness and sheen of lovely skin is soon regained. Wear gloves—rubber ones into which you have sprinkled a little talcum powder—when you wash dishes or use water and strong soaps. Wear gloves—cotton ones, which you have put on after applying a softening cream on the hands, when you do housework. Wear finger protectors when you are preparing vegetables that might stain the fingers, and wear old silk gloves on the hands at night to protect your creamed hands from the bed clothes. Until the normal oils are restored to the skin, use lots of lubricating creams or oils on th hands at every opportunity. And always, after washing the hands, use a nice hand lotion that doesn't leave the hands sticky and greasy. And wear gloves—which have been put on before going out—every every time you go outside the house!

H. K. writes: Do I have to have high school education to become a dietitian? I should love that kind of work.

Yes, a high school education is quite necessary, and it is preferable to have a Bachelor of Science degree from College as well, although there are courses in dietetics which do not require a full college preparation. However, if you are serious in your intentions, and intend to make this a career, it is best to have all possible requirements so that you can enter any branch of the work in the years to come. In these days of keen competition and higher education, one cannot have too strong a background in any profession. So much of the preparation may seem unnecessary at the time, but if you only get a few fundamentals out of it, it is worth while; and the use for these things may crop up at the most unexpected time.. I think one of the great difficulties with our youth of today is their desire to get into any particular work without a thorough apprenticeship and study. Without this training, one can go just so far and then a stone wall rears up—and there you are, wishing you had not dodged that subject, or dropped that course during your schooling. Some times we are too satisfied with ourselves—a superficial knowledge seems to be sufficient for a certain opening, and we skate along on thin ice, getting by for a while—and then when it is too late, we realize that certain gaps — dangereous ones—need filling up. So no matter what the work is you plan to do, prepare for it thoroughly, very thoroughly, and you will never regret it.

Negroes Arrested In Connection With Burglary of Cafe

Two negroes were arrested by city officers Thursday in connection with the burglarizing of the Nothing Rite Cafe on South Ninth street in which a quantity of merchandise including candy and tobacco was taken. A gum-vonding machine was also recovered.

Charges of operating a car without a tail light, two of operating cars with only one headlamp and no tail light, one of blocking a street crossing, brought offenders into the Corsicana Corporation Court Thursday morning.

One person was arrested by city officers and another for aggravated assault and transferred to the county jail.

POURING CONCRETE CURBS THURSDAY ON COURT HOUSE BLOCK

Pouring of the concrete curb and gutters about the Navarro county courthouse in the street-widening program in conjunction with the street improvement work being done by the City of Corsicana started Thursday morning.

The streets about the courthouse are being widened and new curbs and gutters were necessitated. When the program is completed, parking regulations similar to those in vogue in the business district will be invoked whereby parking will be at an angle instead of the parallel parking practices heretofore. This will give a decided increase of parking facilities about the temple of justice.

BAR BANQUET

Ramsey Cox spoke interestingly about the scenery in Mexico, with particular emphasis on the mountain ranges, and the pyramids, said to be older than the famous Egyptian pyramids.

Richard Mays spoke of the late Reese Tatum, including his early background, as a man who was on the district judge's bench for more than 20 years without an opponent.

C. W. Taylor spoke of the opportunities of the younger lawyers and referred to four youngsters who were leaders in the Twenty-Seventh Legislature while he was in the attorney-general's department....The four youngsters at that time were E. B. Pickett, great lawyer at Liberty; John Nace Garner, now vice president of the United States; Tom Connally, United States senator, and Pat M. Neff, former governor of Texas and now president of Baylor University, Waco. J. S. Simkins urged the younger attorneys to study the law.

Number Made Talks

Others appearing on the program included C. L. Knox, Galloway Calhoun, Gordon Brelsford. District Judge Wayne R. Howell, A. P. Mays, who introduced Roland F. Irby, official court reporter of the district court; County Judge Paul H. Miller Donald Marr, youngest member of the bar; Charles T. Banister, criminal district attorney; Judge C. L. Jester, Judge J. S. Callicutt, who also spoke of Judge Reese Tatum ,and Treasurer C. E. McWilliams.

A committee composed of C. W. Taylor, chairman; Richard Mays and J. S. Callicutt was appointed to draft resolutions on the death of Judge Tatum.

A committee of A. P. Mays, chairman; Wayne R. Howell and T. L. Tyson was appointed to confer with the Court of Civil Appeals, Waco, relative to arrangements for a memorial service for Judge Ballard George here in the near future and also to prepare suitable resolutions.

Officers re-elected by acclamation were Beauford H. Jester, president; A. P. Mays, vice president; Joe Anderson, secretary, and C. E. McWilliams, treasurer.

The attention of the bar was called to the program commemorating the 100 years existence of the Supreme Court of Texas and celebrating the centennial of its first meeting Saturday morning in Austin at 10 o'clock. The Texas Bar association will be in charge of the program. Angus Wynne of Longview, president of the Texas bar, will serve as chairman.

A number of high ranking attorneys and former members of the court will appear on the program.

Strong Boy Domino Club Guests Louis Seale's Birthday

Louis Seale of Kerens celebrated his birthday Wednesday and had as his guests the Strong Boy Domino Club of Kerens, S. H. Butler, Corsicana and Mrs. Brat Massey.

The day was spent playing games and recalling old times. At noon a bountiful lunch was served and included on the menu were all kinds of good things to eat. The guests enjoyed the old fashioned hospitality of the home and before leaving wished for the host many more happy birthdays.

Members of the Strong Boy Domino Club are J. L. Baker, president; P. H. Brister, L. A. Noble, Brat Massey, Wash Peters, Garfield Webster, Louis Seale and W. J. Carroll.

Tax Assessor and Collector.

In another place in today's paper will be found the formal announcement of Andrew G. Steele as a candidate for the office of assessor and collector of taxes in Navarro county subject to the action of the democratic primaries.

Mr. Steele is a native of Navarro county and has been a deputy in the assessor and collector's office for the past ten years. He is well and favorably known throughout the county where he has many friends.

In view of his past service his many friends feel that he is due a promotion and that he is especially qualified to fill this important office in a manner satisfactory to all concerned.

Economy in the conduct of the office and courteous service to all is promised by Mr. Steele should he be elected.

The voters of Navarro county are respectfully requested to give Mr. Steele's candidacy serious consideration when they cast their ballots for the important office of tax assessor and collector in the coming democratic primaries. (Political advertisement)
